MEMORIAL SERVICES IN TEXAS. Entire State Pays Tribute to Memory of Mr. McKinley.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Dallas, Tex., Sept. 19.—Every city, town and village in Texas had memorial exercises for the late President McKinley today. In Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San day. In Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Waco, Galveston and Austin the ceremonies were exceedingly solemn and conventional in church forms. Many public men and prominent preachers of the gospel delivered addresses. There was practically a complete suspension of all business affairs and professional duties between the hours of II a. m. and 2 p. m.

For an hour, II to 12 every wheel on the railroad lines of the State stood still by official orders, and from 2:30 to 2:35 p. m. every sounder in every telegraphic office was as silent as if electricity had disappeared from the industries of the Eniscopal diocese, and Congressman Dudley G. Wooten delivered notably brilliant addresses, and scores of other able men spoke from pulpit or other places, at Austin the State Legislature adjourned at II a. m. until a. m. to-morrow, and elaborate memorial services were held in the hall of the House of Representatives. Many buildings in all the cities of the State were draped in mourning, and memorial buttons were worn by thousands of men.

Exquisite Picturing

Will be offered with the next Sunday Republic, issued September 22. It is even more unique and artistic than that which marked the issue of last Sunday. It will be something that will appeal to you.

A SUBJECT THAT IS OF

Immediate Importance

Has been brought up by the assassination of President McKinley. It is a subject that has become not only national, but world wide, and there need be no surprise if before the year is ended Presidents, Emperors, Kings and Queens are united in a great attempt at its solution. The next Sunday Republic will present the history of this important subject.

THE FALL SEASON SUGGESTS

Fads and Fashions In Dresses and Hats.

The next Sunday Republic will be replete with picture-stories of new styles. The special letter, illustrated in colors, from the Sunday Republic's own artist-correspondent in Paris, is more than usually interest A special chatty letter from New York tells of various new things, which are pleasingly shown in photographic reproduction. And there is still another special letter which tells of one of the season's new plays, while photographs show four of the most beautiful gowns that will be seen on the stage this year.

In Next Sunday's Republic there will be scores of Good Things.

They will all be timely. They will be well presented. They will be embellished by the most beautiful pictures. They will be interesting from every point of view and to every reader. And, at the same time, next Samday's Republic will be a complete newspaper-every bit of the news of the world will be presented in the best possible shape.

It is not too early to Order it To-day.
